HONORS PORTFOLIO REVIEW

The feedback on the review of your Honors Portfolios is now available. Below is information on how to access your portfolio reviews, explanation of the review process and the accompanying feedback, and next steps in Honors course support.

Location of Course Portfolio Reviews: <https://center.ncsu.edu/ncsgp/>

- There is a “restricted access” file for each LEA with access designated for the contact person identified in the submission process.
- If the contact person for the district has changed, please email us to indicate who should be provided access to the Honors Moodle.
- All content area reviews are provided within the folder.

About the reviews:

- Reviewers were expert teachers and content specialists highly recommended by their district.
- Two reviewers evaluated each course portfolio independently and then collaborated to reach consensus on final ratings and feedback.
- Each review indicates a “Met/Not Met” rating for each of the 11 subsections of the rubric with comments to indicate suggested improvements or citing missing components of the portfolio submitted for review.

Next Steps:

The purpose of this information is to provide feedback to your LEA that will enable improvement in the local honors course development and review process. In this year’s realignment of agency responsibilities, coordination of support for honors courses will transition from K-12 Curriculum and Instruction to the Division for Advanced Learning.

Thank you for your continued leadership and support of high quality classroom instruction.

C: Tracy Weeks, Chief Academic and Digital Learning Officer
Jo Anne Honeycutt, Director, Career and Technical Education
Sneha Shah-Coltrane, Director, Division for Advanced Learning
